

Mayra L. Martinez (Mart)

"Inspired by people who do not listen and jumps to own conclusion before the facts. The work "Grandada" has different meanings. In this case it is referring to a fruit and to a hand grenade. That's why you need to listen first to know the real meaning before the truth explodes in your face."

WEBB Auction Piece

"Listen First"

Value: $1000

Acrylic on canvas, 36 x 48 in.

Mayra Martinez (Mart) is an accomplished artist who has dedicated her time to the art of painting, sculpting and poetry. She was born in the mountainous town of Villalba, Puerto Rico surrounded by rain forest, lakes and tropical splendor. Mayra acrylic paintings take on her unique interpretations of exotic fruits and animals. Website: www.Jibarazul.net

"The red represents the passion of my culture. If you look close you will find three symbols that represent the three ethnic groups that make up Puerto Ricans: Indian, Spaniard and Negro"
"Musa Apasionada"
Acrylic 24 x 26 in